Administrator's Letter

Cambria-Friesland School District October, 2019 Monthly Newsletter

This year, the district moved forward with a new plan to address student needs in technology. In previous years we've allowed students grades 6-12 take their Chromebooks home. This was good for our students and remains so, but too often it was at a cost to both the student and the district. Lost or broken and/or uncharged chromebooks, resulted in numerous issues for the student and their ability to appropriately use the chromebook. This was problematic for the student as well as her/his teachers and classes. To address the technology needs of the students the district worked to create that opportunity, but not at the detriment to either the student or the school.

Students/Families who purchase a cord and pay the chromebook insurance:

- May take chromebooks home every night/weekend
- Have purchased a chromebook charger to ensure the chromebook is charged for next day use.
- Have purchased insurance: This is a first dollar coverage. If the student damages their chromebook, this insurance is applied in addressing the damage.
- The insurance is a one-time fee. If used the student/family doesn't have to buy more insurance.

Students/Families who choose not to use take the chromebook insurance:

- Students who choose not to take the insurance have full access to their chromebook throughout the instructional day, but cannot take the devices home.
- Students who damage their chromebook through negligence or abuse will be held accountable for cost of repairs.

I realize this was a change in previous years practice. The issues of the previous system resulted in a number of problems that at times compromised our students, their learning experience and the school. In short, the insurance provides a level of ownership for the student in the use and care of their chromebook devices.

Attendance Counts

This year, students and families will be hearing more from the school should their child have struggles with daily attendance. To the detriment of the child, too often we have students miss an inordinate amount of school throughout the year. For some it's being late 3-4 times a week for 10-15 minutes. For others it's a request every week to be out of district for part or all of the day. If you have questions about attendance here are some easy things to remember:

By state statute:

- A student may miss 5 days each semester through parent/guardian excuse. This includes sickness, vacations, family events (weddings, funerals, etc.). As you can see those five days can add up quickly.
- Students who have a medical appointment should provide a note from the doctor that documents their time out of school. Medical excuses do not count against a student's 5 day count. Medical excuses are valid for medical appointments, dental, vision, mental health counseling, etc.
- The same holds true for legal proceedings. The courts will provide documentation for the time missed from school.

If you have any questions regarding attendance please feel free to contact the school at your convenience.

Best Always,

Timothy L. Raymond Ed.S.
CFSD Superintendent

TIPS TO PREVENT STUMBLING THIS FALL

October can be a beautiful month. Lovely Fall colors, Homecoming events, thrilling athletic match ups, and hopefully settling in to a positive academic routine. Identifying the classes where you may need help compared the ones where you might be able to help someone else.

But, sometimes, we get a little too comfortable and we make a poor choice. It's easy to share, pass along, or encourage things we know are wrong - especially when we're online. Students are tired of hearing about 'being safe online' and they don't want to be in the same online spaces where the adults in their lives spend their time. So, there are always new apps and ways to connect and communicate.

The rise in student use of 'burner phones' to avoid having to comply with parental oversight is a sign of the extent teens will go to to keep their communication lines.

It's important to remember that the repercussions of poor online choices really can haunt a person. The June 19, 2019 edition of Education Week, described colleges that have rescinded admissions offers based on student use of offensive memes or racial slurs online. 68% of college admissions officers admit that checking social media platforms is 'fair game' in decision making.

Don't let youthful mistakes hinder your chances at a bright future.

Handbook Highlights

Who really reads handbooks? Often, it's not until after a problem occurs that we really read them carefully. This month, to hopefully help address an issue before it happens. I would like to highlight part of the handbook related to tardiness.

Tardiness

When a student is late in reporting to their 1st period class, he/she is to report to the office before going to class. If the tardy is not excused, he/she will receive a detention. No student may be tardy (excused) more than two times per school year. The determination as to whether additional tardies (after two) are excused or not rests with the principal or his/her designee.

Now, this isn't a new thing or a change from what was written in the handbook in past years. However, it is something that we are seeing an increasing need to enforce in a consistent way. Being at school on time is not only important for learning but one of the key skills and indicators that employers are looking for in their future employees. Please emphasize with your students the importance of being to school on time. Thank you.

September Character

Trait of the Month

Thoughtful

During the month of September, students were taught a group lesson on the importance and effectiveness of being thoughtful. Providing examples to students of what being thoughtful looks like, not just towards others, but in our own thoughts and actions was a key focus of the lesson. During our Terrific Kids assembly, students were asked to push themselves to be more thoughtful and mindful of themselves and those around them. Students were able to demonstrate how everything from attitude to our posture can have an affect on our ability to be thoughtful.

Thoughtfulness is like a superpower. It gives you the ability to see why you do the things you do and why you feel the way you feel. If you don't know why you are doing something, why do it? If you don't know why you feel the way you feel, then that feeling is meaningless. By being thoughtful we can use the information our body gives us and turn it into information that we can use to make better decisions. Becoming a more thoughtful and in the moment person takes practice, however. To get started try this: close your eyes, breathe in through your nose for a count of three, then out through your mouth. Perhaps you're feeling anxious or you have been short with others, continue your controlled breathing and ask yourself if the reason is something you can control or not. Perhaps you are feeling positive and have more energy than usual, try to find out where the energy came from and how you can tap into it again. Being thoughtful is not just thinking more about others, but it is also thinking about ourselves.

October Character Trait of the Month Enthusiastic

What is a better time to celebrate and practice being enthusiastic than October? With homecoming and Halloween, students will have many opportunities to show enthusiasm for their school and community during the month of October.

Welcome back! We are already in the full swing of things here at the Middle and High school and it feels like Fall is upon us! The students are getting into a routine and I'm sure some of the stress and anxiety that school and homework bring are setting in. Having feelings of stress and anxiety is normal, but we don't want it to consume you or ruin your time at school. Here are 10 ways you can deal with stress and anxiety in a quick and easy way:

1. Meditate/stretch
2. Deep, slow breathing
3. Doodle or draw
4. Disconnect from technology and social media
5. Listen to your favorite music
6. Spend time with your pets
7. Go for a walk
8. Watch a funny Youtube video/Look at funny memes
9. Exercise/dance
10. Journal

My office is always open to any student who needs help dealing with the stress or anxiety of school. I am looking forward to the rest of this year and all it has to offer! As always if you have any questions or concerns or would like to set up an appointment, my contact information is listed below.

Cambria Student Gwen Fischer to participate in State Honors Choir.

This past spring, Gwen Fischer auditioned to participate in the State Honors Choir, hosted by the Wisconsin State Music Association (WSMA). The audition process included her singing a solo, as well as a sight reading test. There was also a form that listed her accomplishments in choir. With all of this, the powers that be selected her to be a participant. Approximately 400 students were chosen out of over 1200 students that applied and auditioned.

As a part of the experience, Gwen attended a camp at UW Green Bay for a week in June where the choir rehearsed the eight songs they will perform at the state convention in late October. Each song selected is in a different style covering a number of different languages. On October 23, Gwen will have a final day of rehearsal for the concert, which is in the evening on October 24th at the Overture Center in Madison.

In my 32 years of teaching, I've had a number of students interested in auditioning for the honors choir. Gwen is the first student who has been chosen. This is a phenomenal accomplishment on Gwen's part.

Congratulations!

Cambria Park Improvement Project Update

After several years of park planning which included a district wide survey, grant writing, fundraising, project planning and bidding The Cambria Park Improvement Project is proceeding. The contract for the trail and excavation work was approved by the village board in June. Per the contract final completion of the trail is to be done by November 15th. Plantings, benches, concrete work, shelter, picnic tables, and fish sticks (fish protection) will be done in 2020 with a completion date of June 30th.

Contractors are so busy that it was difficult getting bids for the project. This resulted in the village having to bid in both the fall of 2018 and spring of 2019 before getting a bid for the trail and excavation work but still never got one for the shelter. This put things on hold for a bit and we had to ask for a one-year extension to complete the work. Now that a contract has been awarded things are moving forward. Regarding the shelter, we will be purchasing a shelter from a company and will use volunteers to assemble it onsite. If you have the skills and knowledge and are willing to help with the assembly of the shelter please contact the Village Office at 920-348-5443 or cambria@centurytel.net and provide your name and contact information so we can contact you when that project is scheduled.

Other volunteer opportunities for this project include helping place the fish sticks (trees) on the lake in January or February and helping with plantings that will be done in the spring or early summer after the excavation and trail are completed this fall. If you are willing to help with either of these projects contact the Village Office to leave your contact information and we'll let you know when each project is scheduled.

Also, we will be in need of trees for the fish sticks, if you have any Locust, Spruce or Juniper trees that are 20' – 30' or larger and willing to donate them for this project please let us know. Or if you have any equipment that would be able to haul this size tree and are willing to help, even if for a fee, please let us know.

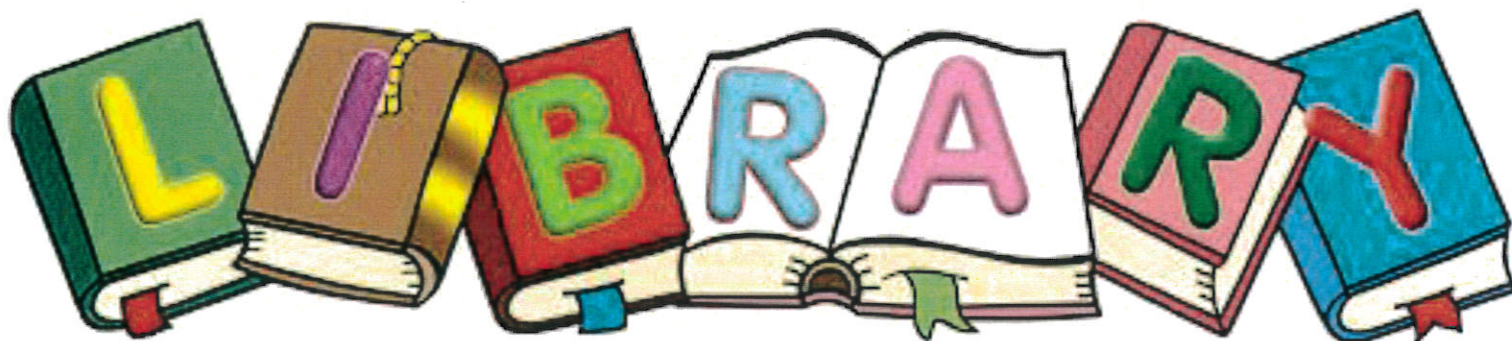

We would like to thank the very generous donors listed below, without them this project would not be possible! The community thanks you for your generosity which allows us to make improvements to our park and lake!
